Seventh Sunday of Easter

Summer is nearly here! School is almost out, and plans are well underway to take the annual summer vacation. Perhaps you will be traveling to a place you've never visited before. Once there, you may even take part in that age-old tradition of sending postcards to family and friends back home. And chances are, you will utilize the small space on the postcard to tell them "Having a great time, wish you were here!"

Today's Gospel reading from John is one of Jesus' most powerful prayers. He had begun by proclaiming "the hour has come." And now, his concern is not for his impending persecution, but for the 11 seated around him and the ministry they were to carry on without him. The peace Jesus feels, he wishes for his disciples; "I wish that where I am, they also may be with me." Not where he is going, where he is - at peace.

Jesus wishes for us a perfect life. This perfect - the communion of life and love with the Holy Trinity, the Virgin Mary, the angels and all the blessed - is called "heaven" (CCC 1024). How selfless that in what Jesus must have known to be his final few hours with his disciples, he would ask for nothing for himself, only that his disciples and all of us who hear their words find the grace and peace of God's love, and that from then on we would know that heaven is both a destination and the journey.

Caring & Sharing

"That part of my life is over and it really hurts," I hear this over and over in the letting go process. The only pathway to balance and wholeness is through pain of acknowledgment.

It is extremely important to have a strong support system along the way. As time passes on the deep pain changes. It never is finished. To awaken some morning and be without pain would be a miracle!

Reminders are all around us.

We get special grace to carry on,
smile and say we are fine.

That is what people expect.

We know the Lord who gives us strength
never tires of us sharing our pain.

Let us turn to him in prayer.

the sisters, who support those in need through devotion to ministries and prayer. Enter and get a chance to win a free round of golf for four at Valhalla Golf Club, plus free rooms at the fabulous 21C Museum Hotel in downtown Louisville.

SCRIP

Please think about purchasing Wal-Mart/Buehler's IGA SCRIP for your upcoming Summer get togethers and cook-outs. They make wonderful gifts for graduates and weddings. Please see Ann Perkins, Carrie Ellermann, or Ron Beckman if you have any questions about SCRIP and how it works. It is a very easy fundraiser for the Catholic Community of Washington. We can make more money if we have more people using it.
